Professional Expertise

Curtis Cluff is a Multi-Family, Investment and Self-Storage specialist in the Cushman & Wakefield Boise, Idaho office. Curtis joined the Boise Cushman & Wakefield group in 2021 to help the firm expand their presence in the multi-family sector. Curtis started his commercial real estate career as a property analyst for a national real estate investment firm where he performed analysis on the acquisition of over half a billion dollars in investment properties. As a Boise native and a lifelong investor in Boise real estate, his knowledge of the Idaho market and its rise to the national spotlight gives a valuable and unique perspective to the Boise Cushman & Wakefield multi-family team. Blending his local market knowledge and perspective with the World Class service and National Exposure of the Cushman & Wakefield corporate platform allows him access to institutional grade assets and investors, while still delivering the personal, focused attention that private investors desire.

Before joining the CW team in Boise, Curtis oversaw all brokerage transactions in the state of Idaho as the Designated Broker for Marcus & Millichap. He is a graduate of the Boise State University College of Business.

When he's not engaged with his clients, Curtis spends his time with his family enjoying activities like camping, fishing, snow skiing and building classic cars.
