BIO

Who: I am a born and raised Texan but got to Boise as soon as I could! I love the mountains and doing anything outdoors in nature. Yellowstone National Park is my favorite place in the world, and it led to me joining the profession I am in now.

I have a bachelor's degree in Landscape Architecture from Texas A&M University and have worked in the profession for 15 years. I love designing and working with the built and natural environment to create places people can experience and connect – with one another and nature. My professional path led me in several directions, including marketing for an environmental engineering firm. Now I get to combine both skills in marketing and landscape architecture at The Land Group.

For fun I love to go hiking, biking, camping, hot springing, or anything outdoors. I also enjoy sketching and creating art, crocheting gifts, and spending time with my little dog Otis.

Why: I joined CREW to be a part of community of professionals in similar fields – for networking and fun!

Fun Fact: I love to travel and have bungy jumped off the Kawarau Bridge in New Zealand – where bungy jumping was invented!
